

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

PATRICK JONES,

Defendant.

Case No. 11-CR-73-1-JPS

ORDER

On July 14, 2017, Defendant moved the Court for early termination of his term of supervised release. (Docket #123). The Court may terminate supervised release after one year of supervision “if it is satisfied that such action is warranted by the conduct of the defendant released and the interest of justice.” 18 U.S.C. § 3583(e)(1). In making this assessment, the Court reconsiders each of the sentencing factors provided in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a). United States v. Lowe, 632 F.3d 996, 998 (7th Cir. 2011). In support of his motion, Defendant cites his age, lack of subsequent record, supportive family, consistent employment, and the fact that the U.S. Probation Office does not object to his request. (Docket #123 at 2-4). The government opposes the motion in light of the extremely serious nature of Defendant’s offense: managing a marijuana distribution organization for over a decade. (Docket #125 at 3). Having weighed each of the Section 3553(a) factors against the parties’ arguments, the Court concludes that early termination of Defendant’s supervised release is appropriate. Absent any violations in the interim, Defendant’s term of supervised release shall terminate effective November 1, 2017.

Accordingly,

IT IS ORDERED that Defendant's motion for early termination of his term of supervision (Docket #123) be and the same is hereby GRANTED; and

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Defendant's term of supervised release shall end on November 1, 2017.

Dated at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, this 26th day of July, 2017.

U.S. District Judge
